Intellectuals, Johnson Are Not Trustful

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, campaigning for his own re-election, already has laid out the two problems he will hit hardest in the congressional election season.

Both were obvious before he began — the war in Viet Nam and the national economy — since they are the two problems prominent in the public mind.

But it is the energy he has displayed so far — in spinning around the country, in the number of speeches he has made and the number of places he has visited, and the endless hand-shaking — that is impressive.

But there is also an obvious reason for the energy, besides his party loyalty.

If he hopes to be chosen for a second term in 1968, his foundation stone will be the number and the scope of his programs between now and then.

The more Democrats he has in Congress to help him, the better his chances. So his whirlwind politicking so far this year, and for the rest of it, will have the long-range effect of campaigning for himself two years ahead of time.

In the House, where all 435 seats are at stake, the count now is 254 Democrats to 180 Republicans, with one vacancy in each party. That huge majority, if it can be retained, is Johnson's best hope for the future.

Publicly, Republicans have been forecasting a gain this year of 15 or more seats. They tried to talk of a gain of 30 but have worked their way up. But what they say in public is not necessarily what some of the best informed among them say in private. They're reluctant to be that optimistic.

In the Senate, Democrats outnumber Republicans 67 to 33, with 37 seats at stake in the election. In the Senate there may not be a shift of more than two seats in either direction.

But for Johnson — and no President has ever paid closer attention to what every member of Congress did, does or is likely to do — every vote counts.

That explains the energy, the rapid handshaking. But getting it among the crowds, and being applauded, is probably a therapeutic reassurance to Johnson's ego, since opinion polls have shown him dropping in public approval.

Miss Jo Ann Whitten, daughter of Mrs. Johnnie W. Whitten of Evening Shade, was named county forest queen.

Convicted for Refusing to Go to Battle

FT. DIX, N.J. (AP) — Pfc. James A. Johnson Jr. was convicted today of refusing to obey an order to go to Viet Nam. The seven-man military court delivered the verdict after 16 minutes of deliberation.

Johnson, the second of three soldiers charged with refusing to go to Saigon, appeared to smile nervously as the board returned from deliberation.

He marched smartly up to the president of the general court-martial, Col. Morris Zebrowitz. He saluted and heard the verdict.

After hearing the verdict, he again saluted, did an about face and was expressionless as he marched back to his seat.

Earlier Johnson had testified that he felt he would be a "criminal" if he fought there. The defense rested its case after the defendant spent 15 minutes on the stand.

Johnson pleaded innocent Thursday at the general court-martial's opening day. His defense contended that a high-level Army plan was behind the court-martial proceedings.

Johnson admitted today that he intentionally disobeyed an order that he board an aircraft bound for Viet Nam from near-by McGuire Air Force Base.

He said while at Ft. Hood, Tex., he had asked his commanding officer, his chaplain, Jay Breese, a comanager of the establishment. No admission is charged. Soft drinks cost a dime. Coffee and tea are served to accompany potato chips and cheese dip.

Breese, a sophomore at Harvard, and David Turner, a junior at Temple, are comanagers and prime movers behind the club. They searched for a source of summer entertainment but rejected other sites for a coffee house because of the cost. The church was available rent-free.

Breese said he felt the night club had a civilizing effect on its patrons. Rock 'n' roll is taboo. Soft jazz discourages dancing, Breese said, "but it promotes conversation."

Asians Ask China Be Admitted

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — The Asian parliamentarians' unions ended its second annual assembly today with a resolution opposing the admission of Communist China to the United Nations.

The five-day assembly was attended by 270 delegates from Nationalist China, Japan, South Korea, Laos, Malaysia, the Philippines, Thailand and South Viet Nam. Australia and Indonesia sent observers.

Basement of Church Looked Like Cabaret

By JAMES H. RUBIN
PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — A church basement on the campus of Princeton University spent the summer disguised as a jazz cabaret.

The experiment was so successful it probably will be repeated next summer.

The night spot, operated with the blessings of church leaders, had standing-room-only crowds of collegians and high school pupils all summer long.

"We wanted to show them we live in this century and not some other," observed the Rev. Donald Meisel, a minister of the First Presbyterian Church.

The club, soon to close its first season, is called "The Catacomb," after the caves in which early Christians sought refuge from Roman soldiers. It derives its modern inspiration from the haunts of Parisian music enthusiasts.

"We haven't done a lot of evangelizing. It's just one way of saying that we care, to suggest to the teen-agers that the church is adaptable and flexible and not confined by tradition," the Rev. Mr. Meisel said.

A church member characterized the project as the most important work undertaken in years by the parish. The white stone building has been a state-ly landmark at the head of the Ivy League campus for years. It is not directly affiliated with the university.

The atmosphere of the basement night club is relaxed and friendly. Dress is casual, occasionally tending toward the "beat," long straight hair for girls and sandals for boys. But there is no dancing, and liquor is prohibited.

Main attraction of the "Catacomb" is entertainment. Guitarists, jazz combos and folk singers perform twice nightly. The amateur musicians are usually drawn from the town of Princeton's talented populace. They perform without pay.

"I think they're glad to," said Jay Breese, a comanager of the establishment. No admission is charged. Soft drinks cost a dime. Coffee and tea are served to accompany potato chips and cheese dip.

No Plan to Speed Civil Rights Bill

By HARRY KELLY
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate climbs back today on what Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield describes as "the same treadmill" of the slow-moving civil rights dispute.

Mansfield added that he has no plans to speed things up, "on the basis of the way we're going."

After two days of trying, the Senate mustered enough members Thursday — 51 senators — for Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., to begin a filibuster assault on the measure.

But by the time Thurmond started the debate on the motion to take up the bill, only a few of the senators remained on the floor. Some, reportedly, were leaving town for the weekend.

After Thurmond thumped at the bill for 69 minutes, a quorum call was sounded, then called off and the Senate recessed until today.

Mansfield acknowledged that corraling another quorum might be troublesome — "Friday's a bad day. I hope we'll have no trouble. We're out of business if we don't get it (a quorum)."

But he added that the campaign demands on members might be as great, if not greater, with primaries scheduled in 11 states on Tuesday.

The Senate leader has attributed much of the absenteeism to members campaigning for the fall congressional elections.

He said he still hopes that Congress can adjourn so that members can return home about Oct. 15, even though President Johnson gave Congress Thursday some more work — legislation to fight inflation by temporarily suspending the investment tax credit for business and special tax write-off depreciation speedups.

At one point Thursday, Mansfield had threatened to send the sergeant at arms to arrest and return missing senators if the absenteeism that plagued the Senate since the Labor Day holiday continues.

Thurmond, one of an alliance of Republicans and Southern Democrats fighting the civil rights bill, said the measure is "one of the most vicious, vindictive, politically inspired measures to be forced upon Congress since the founding of the Republic."

Zeroing in on the bill's controversial open housing provision, Thurmond declared, "If this bill were to be passed, the constitutional right and inherent prerogative of an individual to purchase, own, dispose of and enjoy property as he sees fit would be denied."

Lowe Lashes LBJ's No Win Policy

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — Lynn Lowe opened his campaign for Congress Thursday night with a television speech filled with criticism for President Johnson's "raw deal" to farmers, "no win policy" in Viet Nam and other issues.

Lowe, 31, a Republican from the Garland community near Texarkana, spent 30 minutes outlining his views and asking for votes. He is running against David Pryor, 31, the Democratic nominee from Camden.

Pryor, Lowe said, is backed by the national administration. Lowe said that if he is elected, he would boost a "win policy" in Viet Nam and advocate broader bombing of North Viet Nam as a means of bringing the war to an end.

He said the Johnson Administration's mismanagement has forced one out of three farmers to give up his way of life.

"This runaway inflation," Lowe said, is tied to deficit spending by the government, which shells out money at such a clip that it stays in the red despite $500 billion worth of new taxes on the American people during the past 5 1/2 years.

Lowe said he was opposed to gun-registration proposals and that Pryor, who was a state legislator for six years, had once introduced a gun registration bill.

The candidate said President Johnson's racial policy is an attempt to force a racial amalgamation and to deny the right of school districts to operate independent of federal intimidation.

true meaning of Full Service.

Like most men, he had people to see and things to do and places to go. We explained the convenience of doing all his banking under one roof. (We call it one-stop banking.) And to him, it all made sense. From checking accounts to travelers checks, and from trust services to savings accounts. Now he's a satisfied First National customer, and we couldn't run him off if we tried. How about you? We've got plenty of Full Service to go around at First National Bank in Hope. Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — In the old TV tradition, the audience was permitted a long farewell to summer; to take a look at the new Miss America, always picked on the weekend after Labor Day. Then the new season was launched.

But this season, ABC jumped the starting gun by almost a week and NBC slipped a few new shows into the channels Thursday night. Even so, there will be such a wealth of premieres, specials and important movie reruns during the next seven days of network broadcasting that no one can possibly catch all the action.

Taking the goings-on in chronological order, the next few days shape up like this:

Tonight's ABC premieres start at 7:30, EDT, with the half-hour "Green Hornet," lineal if not spiritual descendant of "Batman." It will be followed by "Time Tunnel," science-fiction saga (8-9). Then comes "The Milton Berle Show" (9-10), a variety hour with the former favorite attempting a comeback.

"Shane," an adaptation of the 1953 Western movie, will hit the ABC channels on Saturday evening, 7:30-8:30. NBC will present a special variety hour aimed at high school and college students called "Class of '67" (9-10) after which the network will devote the usual two hours (10-midnight) to the "Miss America" drama.

Imogene Coca and Joe E. Ross will star in a Stone Age comedy series, "It's About Time," which will have its CBS premiere Sunday night (7:30-8). NBC's "Hey, Landlord," a comedy about two young bachelors in New York (8:30-9) will be followed by the new CBS variety hour, "The Garry Moore Show" (9-10).

ABC's "Iron Horse," an hour Western, and NBC's "The Monkees," a half-hour comedy about a rock 'n' roll quartet, will compete for attention in the 7:30 spot on the Monday night schedules. "Run, Buddy, Run," a CBS comedy, will have its first outing (8:30-9), followed by NBC's "Roger Miller Show" (8:30-9), a variety program.

"The Road West," another Western, arrives on NBC (9-10), while CBS' "Family Affair" starts at its half-way mark (9:30-10). CBS' "Jean Arthur Show," with the film star playing a lady lawyer, winds up the evening's premieres (10-10:30). Tuesday is almost as busy. There is NBC's "The Girl from U.N.C.L.E." (7:30-8:30), followed by "Occasional Wife," a situation comedy, which will conflict with the start of ABC's "Rat Patrol" (8:30-9) about adventures of Allied soldiers against Rommel's Africa Corps.

"Felon Squad," a police story, will have its ABC premiere (9-9:30). There will also be a CBS news special, "Young Mr. Eisenhower," a documentary of the former president's early years (10-11). "The Love Song of Barney Kempinski," first of ABC's "Stage 67" series of weekly specials, arrives on Wednesday (10-11).

"Jericho," a secret agent series, has its CBS premiere on Thursday (7:30-8:30 p.m.), and the network will also show the first half of the film, "The Music Man" (9-11).

During most of this period, most of the established shows will be returning with new stories and, in many cases, converted to color. As if this were not confusing enough, there will also be a number of old shows seen in new time slots. It is a good week in which to study the program schedules carefully.

Wedding Vows Are Repeated

MRS. DONALD H. GAMMILL

The Walnut Street Church of Christ provided the setting for the wedding of Miss Brenda Kay Deloney to Donald H. Gammill on Saturday evening, August 27. The bride is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William A. Deloney, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Sam Gammill and the late Mr. Gammill.

The double-ring ceremony, with Milton H. Peebles officiating, was performed in a beautiful candlelight setting before a altar banked with woodwardia and huckleberry greenery and centered with a crescent of 25 votive lights. Candelabra and baskets of white gladiolus and chrysanthemum flanked the central arrangement, and hurricane lamps, white satin bows, and huckleberry greenery marked the pews.

Prior to the entrance of the bride and groom, Miss Sandra Stone, cousin of the bride, sang, "Because" and "Pledging My Love." She sang "Whither Thou Goest" as the couple left the altar and paused to take two candles and light one, signifying their two lives being united as one. Candles were lighted by Miss Debbie Erwin, Little Rock, and Miss Jenny Rhodes, cousins of the bride.

The bride was given in marriage by two uncles, Harrell Collier and A. J. Rhodes. She wore a floor-length white gown of peau de sole with sequins and seed pearls on re-embroidered Alencon lace at the Sabrina neckline and long fitted sleeves, which tapered to lily points over the hands. The scissors pleated skirt swept to a swallow-tailed chapel train. Her tiered veil of illusion was held by a pearl tiara, and her only jewelry was a necklace, a gift of the groom. The bride's cascade bouquet was of phalaenopsis orchids and caladium leaves.

Miss America Crowd Loves Patriotic Song

By PHILIP WECHSLER
ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Clutching a tiny American flag and wearing a stars-and-stripes dress, Miss Ohio sang a patriotic song that brought 7,000 spectators to their feet in a rousing ovation Thursday night. "What's better than a song about my country?" an excited Sharon Elaine Phillian said.

The scene was the second round of competition in the Miss America Pageant at Convention Hall.

Sharon had just captured the talent prize by singing "This Is My Country" in a coloratura voice that rang through the huge auditorium.

She shared preliminary honors with another blonde, Miss South Carolina, Barbara Anne Harris of Greenville, whose 36-22-36 figure won the swimsuit competition.

Miss Ohio first appeared on stage in an emerald green, floor-length gown and sang an operatic selection, the "Bell Song" from "Lakme."

She reappeared moments later in a star-spangled red, white and blue floor-length dress. The audience cheered.

While newsmen questioned Sharon backstage, the reigning Miss America, Deborah Bryant, wiped away lipstick from Miss Ohio's cheeks left by other contestants who congratulated her with kisses.

Sharon, soloist for her hometown Presbyterian church in Delaware, Ohio, aspires to be an opera star. If she doesn't succeed in that she wants to work with disturbed children.

A senior at Ohio State University, Sharon is studying child psychology.

Miss South Carolina, keeps trim by eating steak and avoiding sweets.

The two girls joined Miss New Hampshire, Nancy Anne Naylor, and Miss California, Charlene Diane Dallas, as winners of preliminary rounds.

From the winners of the preliminary competition, which continues tonight, 10 semifinalists will be chosen for the finals Saturday night.

Canada Railway Service Restored

TORONTO (AP) — Canada's two major railways announced today that their service has been fully restored despite the refusal by 17,000 employees to return to work after the nationwide rail strike.

The strikers have defied their national union leaders and refused to obey a government order ending the six-day nationwide walkout which started Aug. 26.

The other 118,000 employees returned to their jobs last week-end after Parliament passed legislation giving them an interim 18 per cent wage increase over two years.

YOUTH ASKED FOR IT!

This column is for young people their problems and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help US!, it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush-off.

Send your teenage questions to Helen Help US!, this newspaper.

KISS THE GAL GOODBYE

Dear Helen: I am 30. There is a young lady who tells me she likes me very much, but she is going to marry another guy. She said she doesn't love him and wants me to continue to see her. What should I do? — In Doubt
Dear In Doubt: Butt out! — H.

Dear Helen: What do you do with a husband who has taken to fault finding — not just me, but with the rest of the family? Also if anyone comes to our house, when they have left he talks about what's wrong with them, not what's good about them. This goes on for his family as well as mine. He was not always like this, but it's getting worse. We try to please him, but we don't succeed any more. — Discouraged Wife

Dear Wife: My IGAP ("I'm Guessing Again Perception") tells me your husband hates himself because he has begun to think he is a failure. When a man feels life has dealt him nothing but low blows, he distrusts everyone around him. Bitterness and jealousy take over. He tries to cover his own — perhaps imagined — shortcomings by criticizing others.

If this is a radical change and one he can't overcome himself once he recognizes the cause, then counseling is indicated. Make an appointment for him with your family doctor, and let HIM take it from there. — H.

Dear Helen: Summer company is bad enough when you're in a resort area, but what about these people who say they're coming on a certain week end, then write or wire at the last minute and tell you they've changed their mind, and will be there later? You've got the house fixed up, beds borrowed, meals planned, even partially cooked, and there you are, deflated. They "cancel out" for completely self-centered reasons, like they "just thought they'd stay another couple of days with the Smiths."

I'll never understand the "vacation mind." Don't they know we like to make plans too? — Ready To Move

P.S. How would you greet them?

Dear R. to M.: ...With reservations — at a motel on the other side of town! — H.

Dear Helen: I have a little boy six months old. He is very good with me and anyone else who plays with him, but when his father comes home from work and wants to play, our son screams the minute he picks him up. He keeps on crying until my husband lets go of him and gives him to me. Why would this be? — Upset Parents

Dear U.P.: Back to the IGAP, I'd say your husband may come at the baby too fast, or, more important, not sense his moods. Fathers have a tendency to think ANY time is the right time to play with their children, not realizing that babies, like tired husbands, have their "Do Not Disturb" moments too.

If he can imagine how HE might react to being hoisted by a giant in a rough, tobacco-smelling coat, then he may understand why his baby cries — and let his son get to know him slowly. — H.

Dear Helen: Please tell me if you think it's all right for a 15½ year old boy who just got his learner's permit to drive the car with seven members of the family in it? — Worried Mother

Dear Mother: For safety's sake, the boy's sake: NO! A beginning driver is nervous enough with one person in the car. Seven back seat drivers might well push him into an accident. — H.

MERCURY'S COUGAR, a 1967 entry, is designed to fill the personal car gap between Ford's Mustang and Thunderbird.

Wheeling it

By BOB COCHNAR and DAVE BURGIN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Taking advantage of the obvious consumer infatuation with the "sporty, personal car," motordom's Big Three will introduce two more cars of that variety and a restyled version of a third this fall.

It's a cat, it's a fish, it's a pal! The cat is Mercury's Cougar, a flashy product designed to fill the personal car gap between the Mustang and the Thunderbird.

The fish is, of course, Plymouth's Barracuda which spokesmen say has been "Italianized" and now sports a vague, Ferrari-like look.

And the pal is Chevrolet's Camaro (French for pal) which, until the 11th hour, was called the Panther.

People who have seen the three cars claim their styling is startlingly similar. All have smooth, flowing lines and slight rear-tender hump-ups.

The Fish and the Pal will compete with Ford's Horse (Mustang) and therefore prices will also be competitive. Cougar, for the moment, will have no model-for-model competition and the price is several hundred dollars higher than the Mustang.

When E. M. Estes, Chevy's general manager, announced several weeks ago that his division would have a new car be pointed out that the Camaro is aimed at the fast-growing personal sports-type market that was pioneered by Chevrolet's Corvette in 1953 and further defined by the Corvan Monza in the 1960s.

He had a point, perhaps, since Ford's Thunderbird was introduced in 1954 but the Mustang really created the market to which Estes referred.

THE DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Severe Nearsightedness Can Lead to Blindness

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—Is it true that one who has to wear thick glasses is so nearsighted that he can't read a street sign? Will he eventually go blind?

A—Persons who have the progressive type of nearsightedness often have to wear very thick glasses and have very poor vision. They would have great difficulty reading street signs even with their glasses. When their vision becomes so poor they cannot read the big E on the eye chart, they are classified as blind even though they can still differentiate between darkness and light. When this condition is detected early in its course, its progress can be halted by an operation in which the further elongation of the eyeballs (the underlying cause of nearsightedness) is prevented. In this operation the outer capsule of the eyeball is reinforced with a tissue transplant.

Q—My niece has blurred vision which an oculist says is due to malfunction of the pituitary. What can be done for this?

A—A tumor of the pituitary may press on the optic nerve and cause partial or complete blindness. The treatment is surgical or X-ray removal of the pituitary. I know of no other way in which a pituitary disease can affect the vision.

Q—After a series of tests my doctor says I have chronic urticaria and angioneurotic edema. What is this and what kind of specialist would be the best one to treat it?

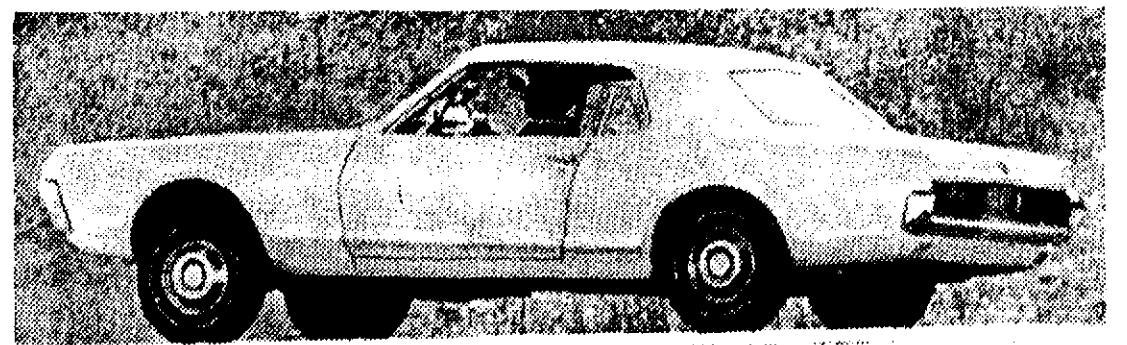

A—Urticaria is hives and angioneurotic edema is giant hives. You should see an allergist.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Q—Several years ago I looked at an eclipse of the sun. I guess the dark glasses

I used were not dark enough because the vision in one eye is blurred. Is there any remedy for this?

A—No one should look at the sun even in an eclipse. There is no kind of smoked glasses that would make it safe to do this for more than a second. Your eye doctor should determine whether your blurred vision is a result of a solar burn, for which there is no treatment, or some other, possibly remediable, cause.

BEGINNER'S LUCK

BROOKVILLE, Pa. AP — Fishermen's Paradise. 10 local fishermen using the best angling gear tried to land a 23-inch brown trout known to be in a stream near this west-central Pennsylvania town.

They wanted the fish for a first-class trout promoting Brookville as a fisherman's paradise, but the trout wouldn't take their lures.

Tom Mark Burns, 10, ambled to the scene with an old lure and a 10-cent lure made from a cork cast and — you guessed it — caught the fish.

HOW LARGE IS INDIA

NEW DELHI (AP) — Indian politicians say the United Nations is responsible for school children around the world getting bad geography lessons.

Furthermore, India's permanent representative at the U.N. has been asked to protest and see that the matter is corrected.

The squabble, which broke out in the present session of Parliament, involves that old quarrel on the sub-continent — Kashmir.

Members of Parliament complained that a U.N. publication "India-1963" gave India's area as 1,269,640 square miles, while "India-1963" lists it as 1,261,597 square miles. This "loss" of 8,000 square miles bothered the members of Parliament.

Education Minister M. C. Chagla, answering the critics' questions, explained that the U.N. secretariat had excluded Kashmir state from the total Indian territory, and that the state, claimed by both India and Pakistan, also had been excluded from a U.N. map of India which is distributed to schools.

Chagla said some discrepancy in area figures also resulted from improved survey techniques.

Safety Play Best Chance

By Oswald & James Jacoby Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Correct trump management frequently leads to the use of safety plays. These are designed to give declarer the best chance for his contract rather than the best play for a lot of tricks.

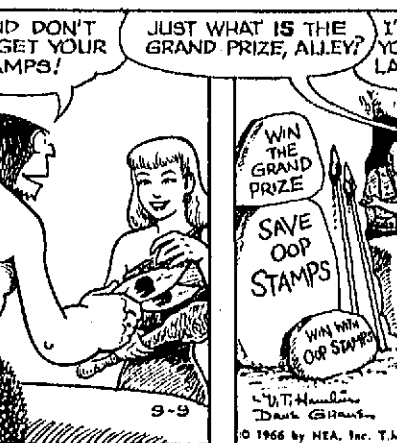

South did not care much for safety plays. He ruffed the diamond lead in dummy, led a trump to his ace, ruffed his last diamond, came back to his hand with a club and led his king of trumps. When East showed out, South led a third trump to East's queen.

East led a spade and two spade tricks set poor South.

South had the bad fortune that so frequently attends careless declarers. If trumps had broken he would have made seven; if West held the long trumps or if East held the spade honors South would still have made his contract. A lot of ifs, but a sure thing is always better than a chance. When East played the four of hearts at trick two, South should have made his contract as safe as possible by playing the nine spot.

West would make a surprise trick with the jack but the best he could do after that would be to cash his ace of spades and keep South from making an overtrick.

This wasn't a perfect safety play. If East happened to be void of clubs West could give his partner a club ruff. On the other hand, a 3-1 break is a common occurrence; a 4-0 break an uncommon one.

Oldsters Firm Leaders

There seems to be a definite spot for older and wiser heads in American business. A recent study revealed that more than 40 per cent of top echelon corporate officers and directors are more than 60 years old.

Approximately four of 10, or 40, of the 66,860 male and female top executives who listed their ages are close to or over 65-year-old mark, usually regarded as the retirement age.

The current age study produced results little changed from those of a year ago. Once again, the largest group of directors and executives — 21,069 — is to be found in the 51 to 60 age category.

Only 27 per cent of those listing their age are under 50 and of this group, the majority — 14,120 — are between 41 and 50.

Less than one half of one per cent — 199 — said they are under 30 and no top corporate official listed is under 21 years old. In contrast, 1,465 of America's business elite said they are over 80. — Jackson (Miss.) Clar-Ledger

Boy Scouts Unpopular With Reds

We read there is a movement to drop the "boy" from Boy Scouts under the assumption that the present name sounds too young and does not convey the right "image." Then next we saw where three men had been sentenced to two years in prison for distributing Boy Scout literature in Communist Hungary, where the Scout movement is banned.

What is it about Boy Scouts that bothers the Reds so much? They apparently see a threat to communism in young people taking oaths to be trustworthy, loyal, helpful, friendly, courteous, kind, obedient, cheerful, thrifty, brave, clean and reverent.

If Boy Scouts have earned the distinction of being hated by Communists, they are of age and worthy of our respect and support, no matter what they are called. — Orlando (Fla.) Sentinel

Faubus Will Speak at Convention

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval Faubus, target of many Jim Johnson attacks during the primary campaign, accepted Thursday an invitation to speak at the Democratic State Convention here next Thursday.

Johnson, the party's nominee for governor, will be the main speaker at the two-day convention.

The invitation had to be approved by Johnson, who said two weeks ago that he would not ask the governor to help him in his campaign against Republican Winthrop Rockefeller.

"Johnson doesn't have a thing I want," Faubus said. "I just don't want to see Rockefeller elected governor."

Faubus said that according to the invitation he will speak at 4 p.m. Thursday.

Gosnell School Gets $35,568

The funds were allocated under a law which provides for payments to school districts that serve children of federal employees who live on federal property. Some Gosnell students live at Blytheville Air Force Base.

Business Dissatisfied Over LBJ's Proposal to Fight Inflation

Tax Increase Talk Spurs Congress

By EDMOND LEBRETON
WASHINGTON (AP) — Amid talk of new taxes and some sharp complaints, Congress moved today to speed consideration of President Johnson's new proposal for fighting inflation by suspending some business tax incentives.

The House Ways and Means Committee announced hearings next Monday on the presidential plan — outlined in a special message Thursday — to suspend for 16 months the 7-per cent tax credit for business spending on equipment and the tax-advantageous fast depreciation rules on business real estate.

The legislation was quickly introduced Thursday by Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., committee chairman, who said the first witnesses will include Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler, Secretary of Commerce John Connor and the Budget Director Charles L. Schultze.

In the Senate, Majority Leader Mike Mansfield announced that Democratic leaders in Congress had been consulted in advance of the message and had assured the President of their cooperation.

And Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., head of the Finance Committee, said that group will consider Johnson's proposals at an early date. The House must act first on the legislation.

In his surprise message, Johnson said the stimulus to the equipment improvement needed a few years ago now is overstraining supplying factors and clogging capital markets with excessive demands for credit.

The business tax credit applies not only to equipment and machinery purchased by industry but to such farm production equipment as tractors. It does not, however, apply to livestock investments.

Johnson announced his new anti-inflation proposals at a news conference staged Thursday just as the special message arrived on Capitol Hill.

The conference dealt mainly with economics, but the President made these other points: The question of troop withdrawal from Europe and other North Atlantic Treaty Organization problems are matters "more wisely handled" in NATO discussions first. Congressional action on U.S. troops abroad is not necessary at the moment.

The administration is seeking each day by "every means available to us" to sound out the chances for improved relations with Red China and an end to the war in Viet Nam.

No one has communicated anything to the United States on French President Charles de Gaulle's suggestion that America withdraw its forces from Viet Nam.

Embezzler Is Refused Plea

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Pardon and Parole Board refused Thursday to extend a medical furlough granted Arnold E. Edens of Paragould.

Edens, a stock broker sent to prison for embezzlement, has been out of prison since May on the furlough, granted after a doctor said Edens was suffering from a heart condition.

Eugene Hale, who handles prison matters for Gov. Orval Faubus, said Edens is scheduled to enter prison again Sept. 17.

The 43-year-old Edens was sentenced Feb. 28, 1963, to 12 years in prison for embezzlement. He received an 11-year concurrent sentence for false pretense.

New Look for Money Orders

WASHINGTON (AP) — Postal money orders will take on a new look next month — they'll resemble regular bank checks.

The new, gray-tinted money orders will go on sale Oct. 8.

By JOHN VINOCUR
NEW YORK (AP) — Business leaders have expressed varying degrees of dissatisfaction with President Johnson's proposal to dampen the fired-up economy by removing tax incentives for new plants and equipment.

Some executives criticized its timing and completeness and questioned whether it would have an immediate effect on inflation and high interest costs, a survey showed today.

Two financial experts, however, applauded the psychological effect of the move.

The plan received a pledge of support from organized labor.

Heading the list of the proposal's critics were Roger Blough, chairman of the U.S. Steel Corp. and William F. Butler, senior vice president of the Chase Manhattan Bank and director of its economic research division. Both called it "a mistake."

"It's not the best program he could have proposed," Butler said, "because orders already placed will allow capital expansion to go on rising, possibly for another six months. The impact may come at the worst time, just as the overheating is ending."

Blough said the plan would not bring immediate relief and could have "just the opposite result of what it intended" by placing additional pressure on corporate borrowing or prices.

The President proposed that Congress suspend the 7 per cent investment tax credit for 16 months. Johnson promised on his part to cut federal spending and appealed to labor to forego demands for inflationary wage increases.

Some praise for the psychological effect of the proposal came from Butler and David S. Jackson, chairman of the board of governors of the American Stock Exchange.

Its impact, Butler said, "will be on the useful side," while Jackson noted that the program constitutes a definite course of action, an attitude, that he believed would meet with Wall Street's approval.

George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, said the plan deals with "the two principal factors most to blame for today's profit inflation" — the tax credit and the accelerated depreciation formula.

"The President," Meany said, "has wisely moved to eliminate the superheat from the only spot in the economy which is now overheated."

James Tobin, a Yale University economist, said "I am glad to see the proposal. It is the correct first step in tightening fiscal policy."

Gemini 11 Shot Delayed by a Leak

By HOWARD BENEDICT

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A pinhole leak in the fuel system of the Titan 2 booster rocket today forced a postponement of the flight of Gemini 11.

The leak was discovered just three hours before astronauts Charles Conrad Jr. and Richard F. Gordon Jr. were to wake up to start preparations for their three-day mission. They were allowed to continue sleeping.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said a new launch date would not be set until the seriousness of the problem was determined. No decision was expected before noon EST.

While there was an outside possibility of a Saturday launching, officials said it more likely would be two or more days.

Pentagon Admits the Blame in $1 Billion Construction Mixup

By BOB HORTON
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon admitted it misled civilian contractors in the billion dollar Viet Nam construction program by overstating probable contract awards and underestimating costs.

In the wake of reports alleging company waste and mismanagement, defense officials praised the private combine known as RMK-BRJ for doing "an amazingly competent" job under tough circumstances.

The consortium, Pentagon officials said in an interview, was steered wrong on two counts:

The firm was told last December to gear for a $960-million program, then was awarded only $780 million in projects.

The $780 million turned out to be a faulty figure — about $200 million low, and the Pentagon must dip into contingency funds to pay the extra amount.

RMK-BRJ, building nearly 80 per cent of the U.S. military facilities for the war effort, consists of Raymond International Inc., of New York; Morrison-Knudsen of Boise, Idaho; Brown and Root of Houston, Tex.; and the J.A. Jones Construction Co. of Charlotte, N.C.

"The contractor has come to us and said 'you're wrong,'" a top military planner told newsmen Thursday. "He now needs $200 million more to finish the projects currently authorized due to underestimations by the Air Force, Navy and Army."

The government will pay this cost increase under provisions of the company's contract, he said.

From RMK-BRJ's view, however, there is a touchy point involved. Its fee is based on a percentage of the originally estimated cost for a given project.

And Pentagon officials acknowledge the company may get little or no fee from the added $200 million — even though low Defense Department estimates.

Mobutu suspended Parliament's powers last March after charging that members had stirred up trouble in the interior during a recess.

Black Power Head Jailed in Atlanta

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Police have arrested "black power" advocate Stokely Carmichael and charged him under two counts in connection with Tuesday night's riot in a predominantly Negro section of southeast Atlanta.

A hearing was scheduled today in Recorder's Court for Carmichael, national chairman of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee.

Detective Supt. Clinton Chafin said Carmichael was charged with disorderly conduct — inciting to riot, a state charge carrying a bond of $10,000, and disorderly conduct — creating a disturbance, a city charge carrying a bond of $1,000.

Carmichael spent the night in the Atlanta jail.

Carmichael was to be tried on the city charge today. If there is sufficient evidence on the state charge he would be bound over to the Fulton County grand jury. The city charge carries a maximum penalty of 60 days in jail or $500 fine.

Chafin said Carmichael was arrested at SNCC headquarters late Thursday night.

Carmichael's arrest came after Mayor Ivan Allen Jr. ordered city officials to initiate immediate action against any and all persons responsible for the riot. Two SNCC members had been arrested earlier.

The mayor made the statement after Police Chief Herbert Jenkins and City Attorney Henry Bowden met with Lewis Slaton, Fulton County prosecutor, to determine the course to be followed in prosecuting persons involved in the rioting.

"They (Bowden and Jenkins) are directed to use every facility and legal authority of the City of Atlanta and the State of Georgia necessary to apprehend, arrest and prosecute to the fullest extent of the law any person involved in the unlawful creation of this incident," said Allen.

"Let there be no misunderstanding of our intentions in the apprehension of these lawbreakers."

Earlier, Allen toured the riot area, known as Summerhill, and said, "I can report that it is orderly, neat and clean and that everything is perfectly calm. I am greatly encouraged."

On Wednesday, Allen blamed Carmichael and the militant civil rights group for the riot.

The SNCC members arrested during the disturbance were bound over to a grand jury on charges of inciting to riot. They are William Ware and Bobby Vance Walton. The two were free under bond.
